ABOUT THE CONFERENCE

The MAICSA Conference 2025, themed “Future Governance”, convenes influential voices across regulatory, corporate, and professional spheres to chart the course for governance that is resilient, responsible, and ready for the future. Governance continues to evolve as a strategic imperative, a compliance necessity, and a critical function in the era of digital transformation, sustainable development, and regulatory scrutiny.

This two-day conference, held at Sime Darby Convention Centre on 23–24 September 2025, will tackle the most pressing challenges and transformative opportunities in governance. With sessions that span regulatory changes, ESG, digital trust, ethical leadership, financial crime, and agile boardroom practices, this event is designed to empower governance professionals to thrive in complexity.

Designed for board members, company secretaries, governance professionals, legal practitioners, accountants, and senior executives, the conference will offer invaluable insights into:

- Regulatory shifts and their impact on boardroom transparency and accountability
- Leveraging technology to simplify ESG reporting and sustainability strategies
- Safeguarding organisations against anti-competitive practices and financial crime
- Integrating digital trust, privacy, and cybersecurity into organisational culture
- Succession planning and future-proofing boards
- Anti-corruption and corporate integrity strategies
- Agile governance and leading through disruption

Through keynote addresses, panel discussions, case studies, and development dialogues with senior governance leaders, participants will gain actionable insights to strengthen their governance frameworks and build more ethical, transparent, and future-ready organisations.

Join us at MAICSA Conference 2025 to be part of the movement shaping tomorrow’s governance—where foresight meets accountability, and where every decision builds trust and impact.
